I have been in the machining business for 37+ years in the Raleigh, NC area. I started out on the shop floor where I spent the better part of 20 years and I have owned my own shop and been a part of management and sales. I have done product development most of my career. I love helping my customers grow and get their products to market.

Here are the services we provide:

Prototype to short run production- milling and turning

Swiss Machining- milling and turning in short run to full production quantities

CNC turning and Milling in short run to full production quantities ( we can provide parts on blanket orders to help you with your lead times and the demand of product spikes)

5 axis machining- prototype to full production

Multi spindle machining- High volume production

Micro abrasion cutting

Mold and Die work-

Wire EDM and Sinker EMD w/ grinding

Sheet metal design and fabrication- I can help you get your product made and to market.

Welding and fabrication

Product development- I can help you make your product more manufacturable.

Business consulting- I can help you streamline your company and get processes in place to grow. I have a lot of experience with startups and companies that are ready to make the leap to the next level.

This covers most of the services we offer. Any services we don't offer, I may have a solution or a service provider that I can point you to. I look forward to working with you.
